

Based on the popular Squid Game Netflix series, TeamUnity has created a fun & engaging teambuilding activity that will test your wit, communication, logic and other skills by engaging in a series of activities similar to those from your childhood such as red light, green light, tug of war, musical chairs, Pog and hopscotch. However, these games are not as easy as you remember, they all have a twist requiring the power of working together as a team!

It may be time to help your group shake things up!

Group socialization or activity can help you feel energized!

In this 90-minute to 2-hour teambuilding activity, individuals will be divided into teams of 5-10 people and identified by colors. Each team will be led by an effective leader who will use empathy to create direct, transparent communication with their team and establish clear norms and values that dictate how each member is able to contribute to their team's overall success.

Participants will navigate through each challenge while forging unbreakable relationships throughout the games.

ALL challenges are Corporate friendly. TeamUnity promotes & encourages fun positive activities for all to enjoy.
